

Nitin Pratap Singh

Software Developer

I started my IT career as a Technical Support Engineer, where I supported online examination systems and helped test centres with setup and issue resolution. Later, I moved into software development and worked with PHP frameworks such as Laravel and CodeIgniter. Currently, I work as a Software Developer with a focus on Magento development. I have experience deploying Magento on Nginx servers, I use Git for version control, and managing work through Jira. I am also learning CI/CD to automate development and deployment tasks.
